Raymond's newest addition to automated Guided Vehicle line released

The Raymond Corporation has introduced the Raymond Courier™ 3220 Automated Tow Tractor. Towing up to 15,000 pounds, the Raymond Courier 3220 combines vision-guided technology with a heavy-duty towing capacity, further expanding

Raymond's end-to-end intralogistics solutions. This model comes with a low clearance arch as a standard design, making it easy to maneuver through areas with low overhanging structures. With increased towing and ramp grade capacity, this automated guided vehicle offers superior productivity for indoor towing applications. www.raymondcorp.com

Graphic Products Inc. expands PathFinder Crosswalk options

Graphic Products introduces its PathFinder Crosswalks. These premade walkway bundles increase efficiency by protecting pedestrians from a dangerous forklift, equipment, and automation traffic. Made with industrial-grade adhesive and vinyl materials, Graphic Products' Pathfinder Crosswalk bundles each come in lengths between 6 feet and 14 feet to create highly visible lines that separate traffic types.

NOVA Technology introduces new Rain Deflector Xtreme

NOVA Technology continues to raise the bar for loading dock seal and shelter performance with its new Rain Deflector Xtreme. This foam-filled, multi-layer water defense system provides an excellent barrier to block water runoff from the tops of trailers. It is compatible with existing seals and shelters and covers a wide variety of truck heights. Its innovative wiper system redirects water runoff away from the building and down the sides of the trailer, even at declined approaches. www.novalocks.com

Newcastle Systems introduces its low-cost LT Series Mobile Laptop Cart

Newcastle Systems is now introducing the latest product, the LT Series Mobile Powered Laptop Cart. The sturdy cart with an integrated power system provides an economical solution for computing or light barcode printing applications for employees working in many industrial environments including warehouses, distribution centers, production floors, and event front end retail. This will power your laptop or small thermal printer and scanner for 8+ hours or 24/7 operation with an integrated PowerSwap Nucleus MINI battery system.
